

Total mulls expanding exploration in Mediterranean and Red Seas

French energy giant Total is considering bidding for new oil and gas exploration concessions in Egypt's Mediterranean and Red Sea territories, chairman and CEO Patrick Pouyanne told Oil Minister Tarek El Molla in a meeting yesterday, Al Shorouk reports. The company is also looking at increasing investments in expanding fuel stations and fuel transportation.